Renowned for their clean, green and sustainable agricultural practices, Kailis Organic Olive Groves produces arguably Australia's best extra virgin olive oil. Delicious Frantoio, Leccino, Coratina and Corregiola olive varieties are blended to produce an ultra-premium olive oil with distinctive cool-climate flavour. Its subtle and rich mouthfeel extends into a mildly pungent finish, making it a perfect accompaniment with Italian bread and your favourite pasta. All you need add to such a delicious menu is a distinctive and aromatic wine from Matua Valley winery, which produced New Zealand's first sauvignon blanc in 1974. The Shingle Peak Sauvignon Blanc takes its name from a stony layered peak in the Richmond mountain range overlooking the thriving grape growing region of Marlborough. This vintage delivers lively gooseberry and passionfruit flavours with a hint of lime.
